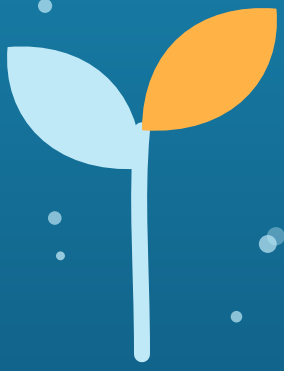
DANSPROUT STORIES



Mia and the Moonlight Whale

A story for Mia

Ocean adventure • Ages 5-6

October 2026

Mia and the Moonlight Whale

Written for Mia

A DanSprout Stories story

October 2026

DanSprout Stories

About this book

COPYRIGHT

© 2026 DanSprout Stories. All rights reserved. This personalized story is for the private, non-commercial use of the family that created it. Please do not sell, publish or post it publicly.

CREATED WITH ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE

This story was created with the help of artificial intelligence (AI) from choices a grown-up made for Mia: an age band, a theme and a reading focus. It was not written by a human author, and it may contain mistakes or ideas that do not suit every child.

GROWN-UP REVIEW

A parent, guardian or qualified educator should read this story before sharing it with a child, and decide whether it is right for that child. Stories have no pictures drawn by an artist; any pictures you add are your own.

PRACTICE FEEDBACK

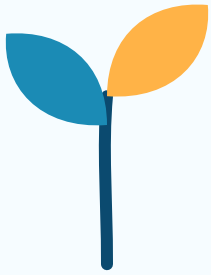
Any score connected to this story measures understanding of this story's questions only. It is not a complete reading assessment, a diagnosis, proof of mastery or a guarantee of educational outcomes. DanSprout Stories is not a substitute for a teacher, a school curriculum or professional advice.

PRIVACY

This PDF contains personalized learner information (the first name "Mia"). Keep it secure, do not share it publicly, and delete it when it is no longer needed.

EDITION

Created October 2026. Story reference a1b2c3d4. Printed from the DanSprout Stories website, dansprout.com.



For Mia

May every page bring a new idea, a little courage and a lot of fun.

Inside this book

The story — 5 pages

Word garden — 3 words

Talk about the story — 3 questions

Notes for grown-ups — reading focus and tips

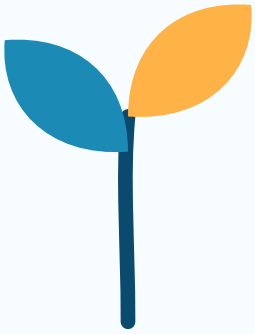
Mia lived by the sea. Every night she looked out of her window at the silver waves.

One evening, a huge shadow glided under the moon. It was a whale, and it was singing a soft, slow song.

Mia put on her yellow coat and ran down to the shore. "Hello!" she called. The whale rose up and blew a little fountain of sparkles.

Mia shared her apple with the whale's friend, a tiny crab. The crab waved a claw to say thank you, and the whale sang louder, as if to say it was happy.

When the sun began to rise, the whale slid back into the deep. Mia waved goodbye. She knew that kind hearts can make friends anywhere, even in the sea.



The End

Great reading, Mia!

Word garden

New words from the story. Read each word, then use it in a sentence of your own.

shore

the land right next to the sea

glided

moved smoothly and quietly

sparkles

tiny bright flashes of light

Talk about the story

Read each question aloud together. Say your answer, then write or draw it here.

1. Who did Mia meet on the shore?

2. How do you think Mia felt when she heard the whale sing? Why?

3. What kind thing did Mia do for the crab?

Notes for grown-ups

READING FOCUS

Comprehension: Answer questions about key details in a story

HOW TO READ IT TOGETHER

Read a page, then pause. Ask what the child noticed, what might happen next, and how a character feels. Let the child read as much as they can, and read the rest to them. Re-reading the same story another day builds fluency and confidence.

REVIEW BEFORE SHARING

This story was created with AI. Please read it first and make sure it suits your child. If something does not seem right, skip it and tell us at dansprout.com.

KEEP IT PRIVATE

This book includes your child’s first name. Store it securely and delete it when you no longer need it.

Mia and the Moonlight Whale

A personalized reading story made for Mia. Created with AI and meant to be read together with a grown-up.

DanSprout Stories • dansprout.com

© 2026 DanSprout Stories. Personal, non-commercial use only. Created with artificial intelligence.